

Girl Waits with Gun by Amy Stewart

Constance Kopp - our heroine

Norma Kopp - Constance's sister, set in her ways, devoted to training pigeons

Fluerette Kopp - Constance's youngest sister/daughter

Henry Kaufman - Kaufman Silk Dyeing Company

Dolley - the Kopp sister's trusty horse

Francis Kopp - brother to the Kopp's sisters, who looks to meddle in their lives

Bessie - Francis' wife

Marion Garfinkel - Henry's sister and secretary

Lucy Blake - worker at dyeing factory, victim of Henry's cruelty

Bobby - Lucy's missing son

Singer man - salesman whose liaisons with Constance resulted in Fleurette

Detective Courter

Sheriff Robert Heath

Cordelia Heath - Sheriff Heath's wife who lives in the prison's lodgings

Regina Doyle - in whose care Bobby had been placed, who then disappeared

Henri LaMotte - photographer that hires Constance to do a bit of surveillance

Mr. Hopper - private investigator also employed by LaMotte

Deputy Morris & English

George Pieters - a reporter for the Paterson paper

George Ewing - an associate of Henry Kaufman, threatening the Kopp sisters

The Misses Eldridge - Lucy Blake's landladies

John Ward & Peter McGinnis - lawyers formerly representing Henry Kaufman

Mrs. Griggs - matron at the Paterson Orphan Asylum Hospital

Judge Haight

United States Attorney Lynch - representing the Kopp sisters

Mr. Joelson - lawyer representing Henry Kaufman

Sicomac Road, Wycoff, New Jersey (Bergen County) - Kopp sisters' home

Paterson (Passaic County)- nearby city of industry

Hackensack - county seat of Bergen County

Mrs. Florence's Country Home for Friendless and Erring Women - place to which Constance ran once pregnant